

SE TOOLKIT

HOW TO CREATE A COURSE

STEP 2:

Click on New

STEP 3:

Fill Name, category, description text boxes and insert a cover image.

Then click submit
(Category is a field where the course belong, Ex: sports is the category for soccer)

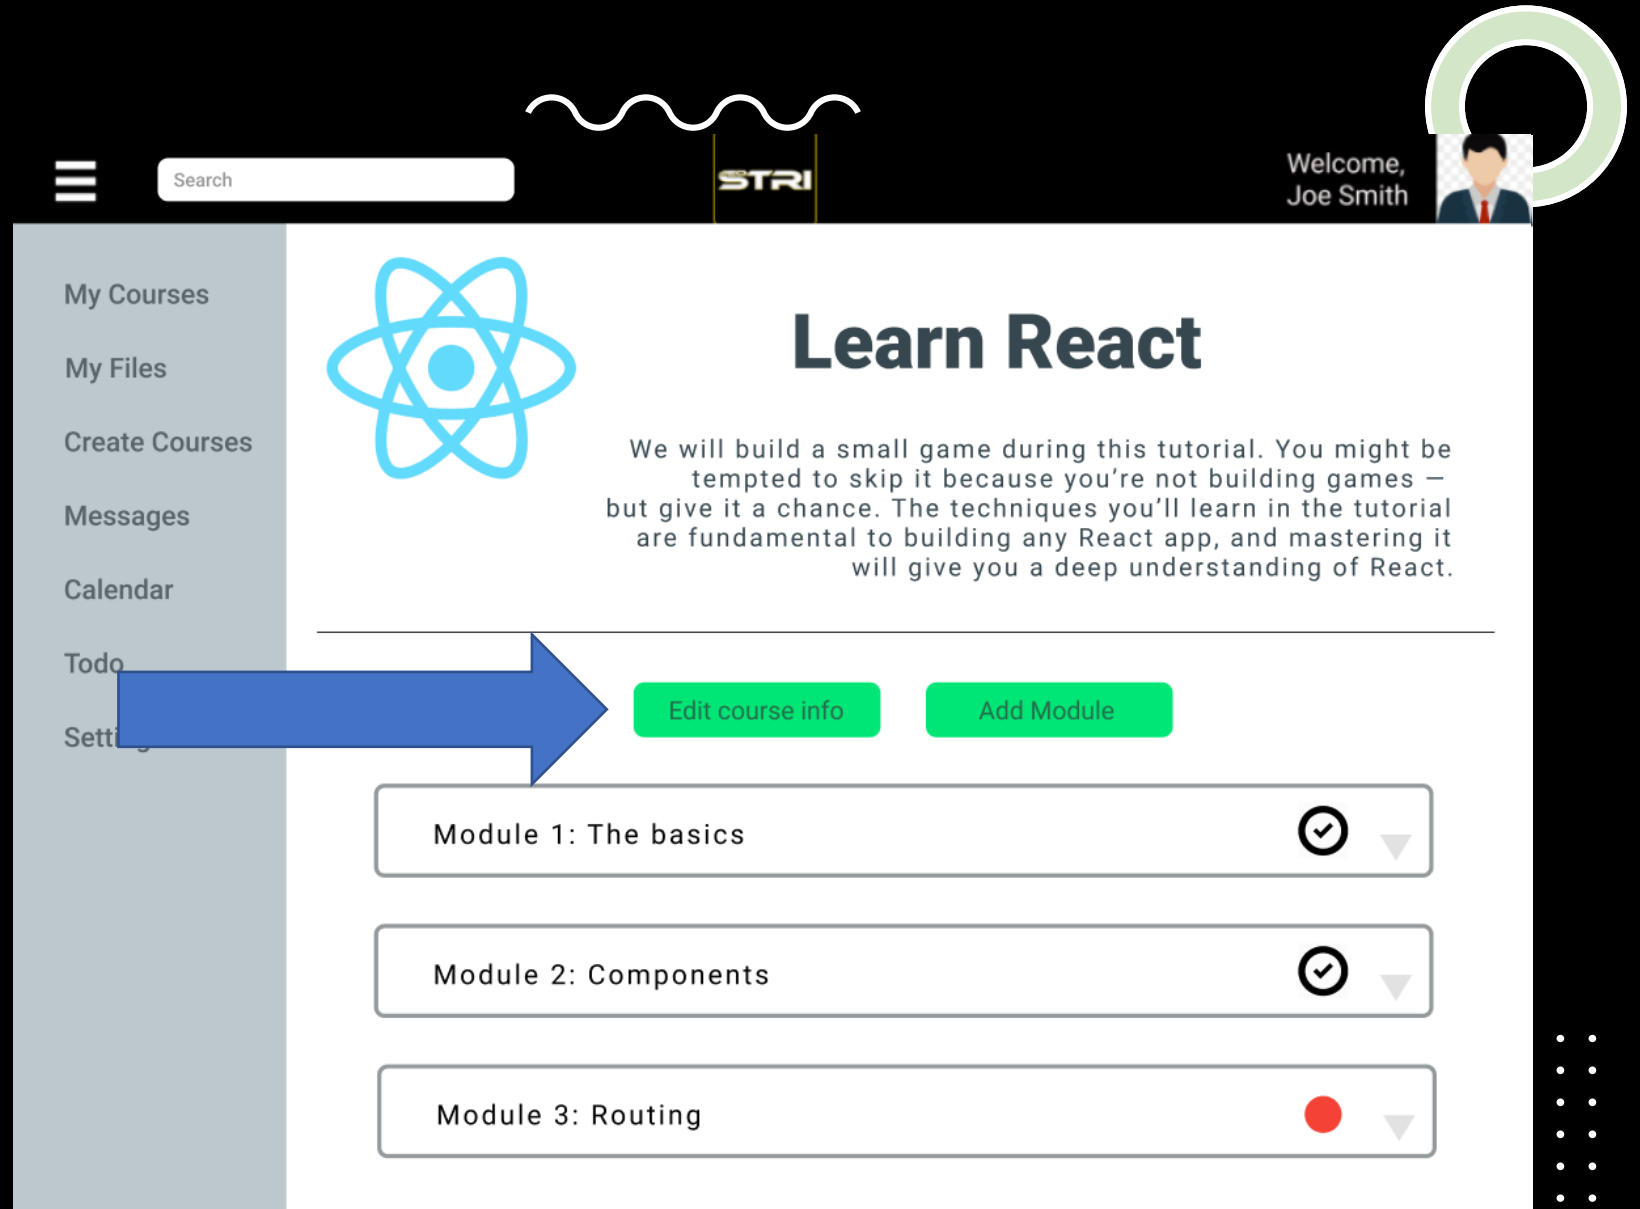

The screenshot shows the STRI Course Creator interface. At the top, there is a navigation bar with a hamburger menu, a search bar, the STRI logo, and a user profile section displaying 'Welcome, Joe Smith' and a profile picture. A green circular arrow highlights the profile picture. On the left, a sidebar contains links: 'My Courses', 'My Files', 'Create Courses', 'Messages', 'Todo', and 'Settings'. A large blue arrow points from the 'Create Courses' link to the main content area. The main content area is titled 'Course Creator' and contains three input fields: 'Name:', 'Category:', and 'Description:'. Below these fields, there is a red button labeled 'Insert cover' and a green button labeled 'Submit'. A second large blue arrow points from the 'Insert cover' button to the 'Submit' button. The bottom right corner of the slide features a decorative pattern of white dots on a black background.

STEP 4:

Click on edit course info to change any information about the course.

Click Add module to create a module for the course

There can be as many modules as necessary.

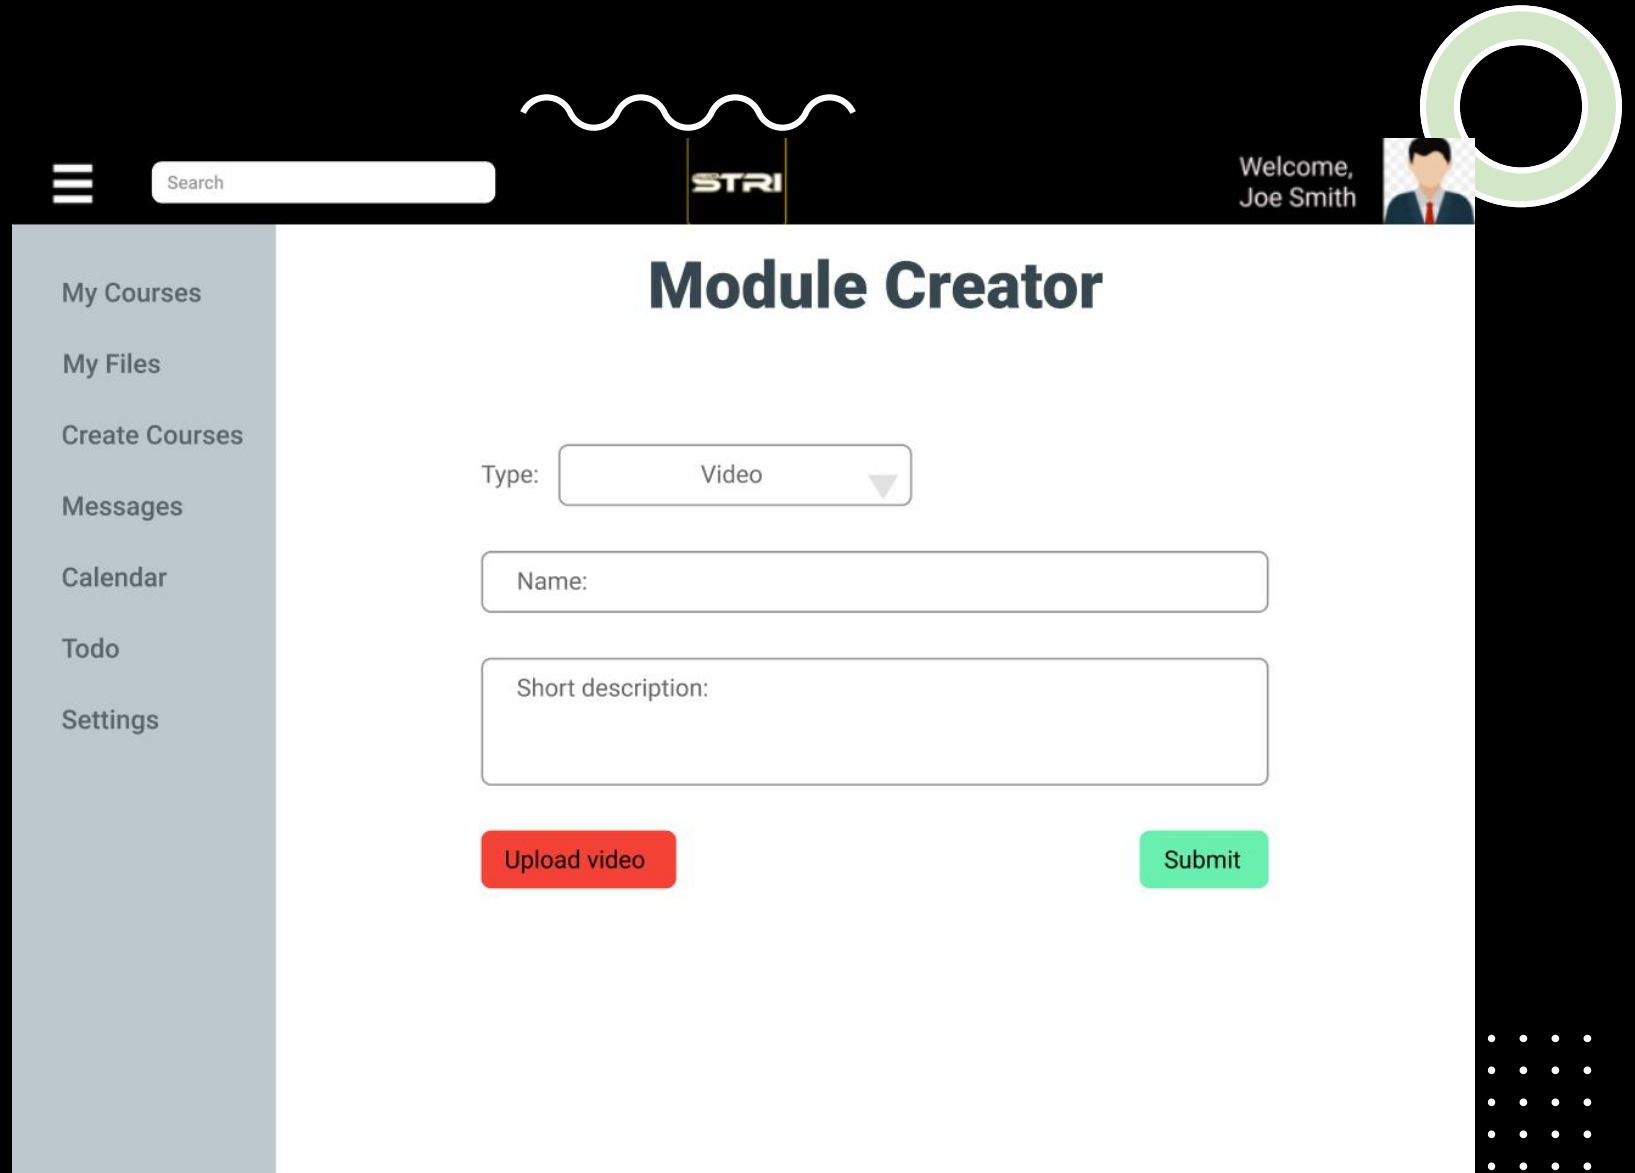

The screenshot shows a web application interface for a course management system. At the top, there is a navigation bar with a hamburger menu, a search bar, the STRI logo, and a user profile section with the text 'Welcome, Joe Smith' and a profile picture. On the left side, there is a sidebar with the following menu items: 'My Courses', 'My Files', 'Create Courses', 'Messages', 'Calendar', 'Todo', and 'Settings'. The main content area displays the 'Learn React' course page. It features the React logo, the title 'Learn React', and a paragraph of text: 'We will build a small game during this tutorial. You might be tempted to skip it because you're not building games – but give it a chance. The techniques you'll learn in the tutorial are fundamental to building any React app, and mastering it will give you a deep understanding of React.' Below this text, there are two green buttons: 'Edit course info' and 'Add Module'. A large blue arrow points from the 'Edit course info' button to the 'Add Module' button. Below the buttons, there is a list of modules: 'Module 1: The basics' (with a checkmark icon), 'Module 2: Components' (with a checkmark icon), and 'Module 3: Routing' (with a red circle icon). Each module entry has a dropdown arrow on the right.

STEP 5:

Choose the type of module you need to create, there are presentation, video, text, quiz and more. depending on the type of module, you will need to fill the information asked.

The video, text, presentation and alternative are very similar, has a name, can upload a short description and upload a file, then click submit.

The alternative module is dedicated for files that can't be displayed inside of the website, this files will be downloaded by the students and then follow the instructions that the professor gave in the description.

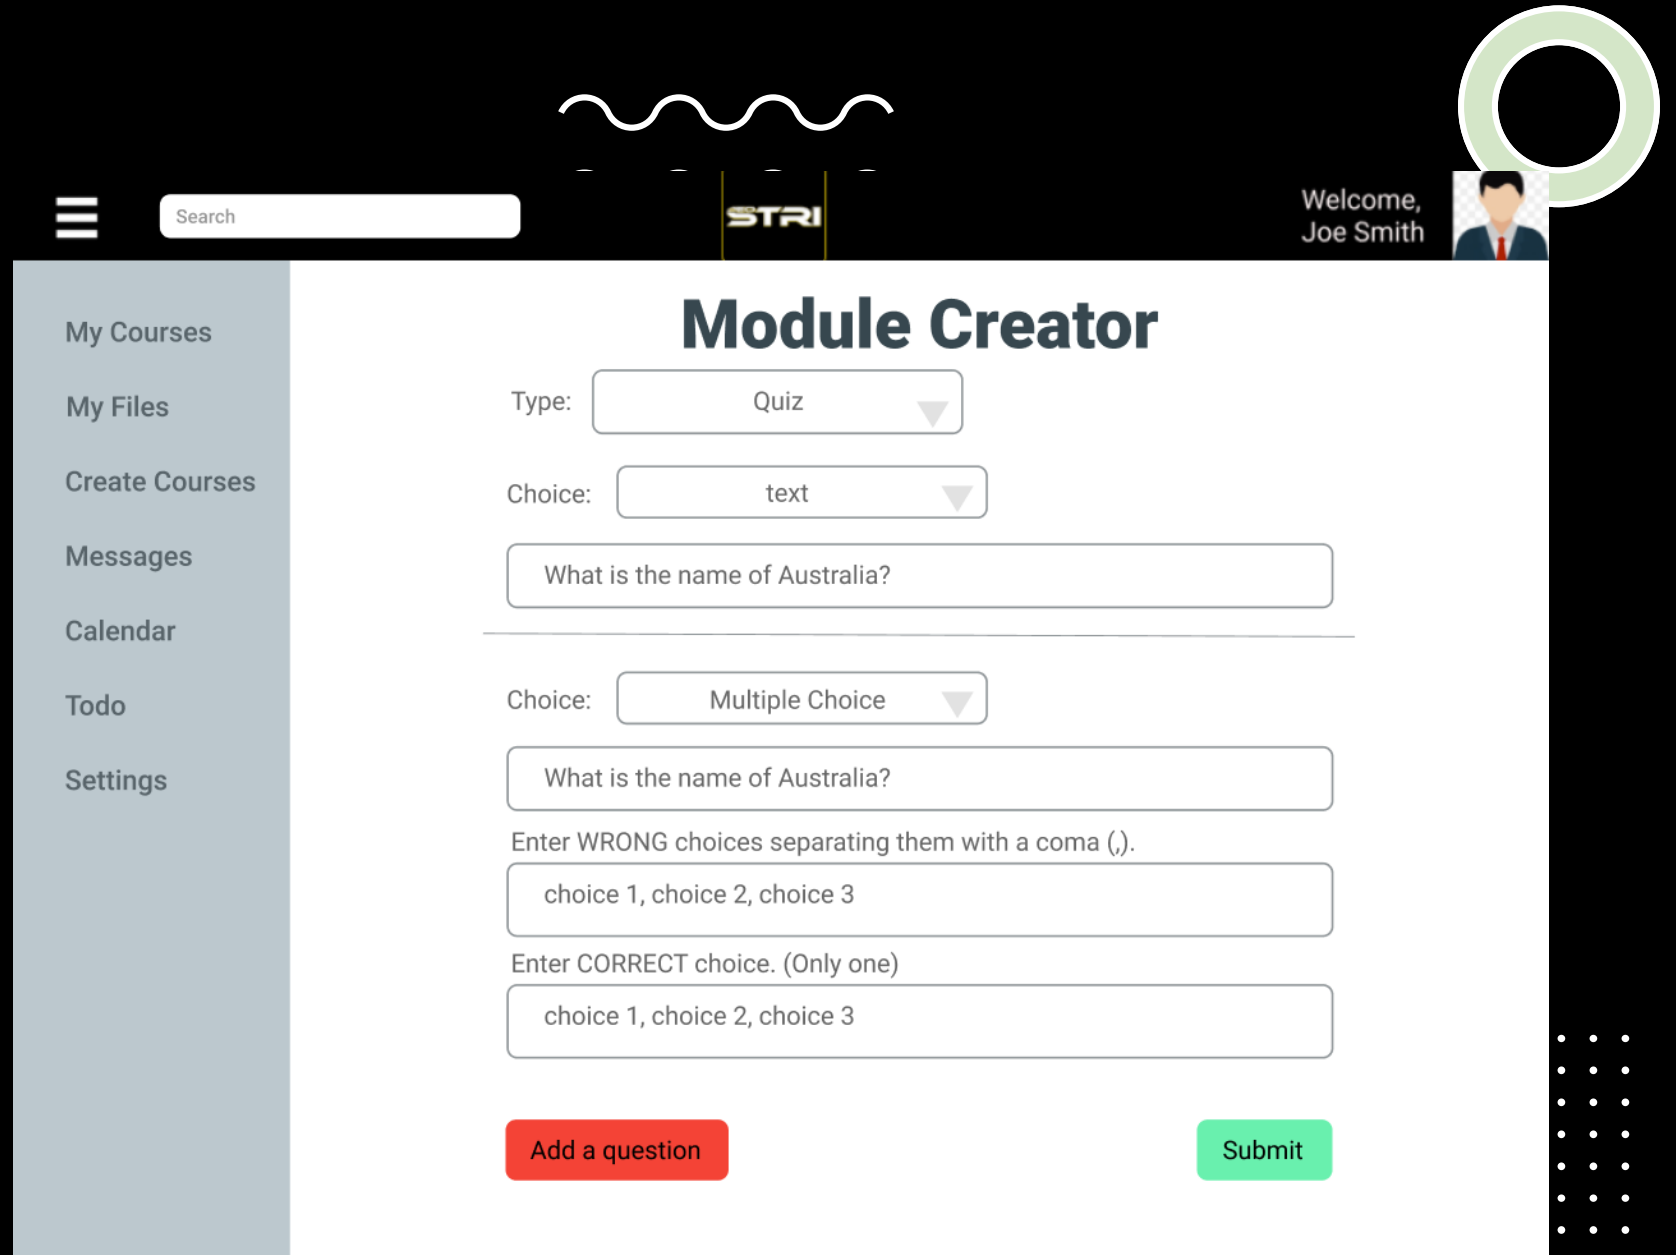

The screenshot shows the STRI Module Creator interface. At the top, there is a navigation bar with a hamburger menu icon, a search bar, the STRI logo, and a user profile section displaying "Welcome, Joe Smith" and a profile picture. A large green circular graphic is positioned in the top right corner. The main content area is titled "Module Creator" and features a sidebar on the left with the following menu items: "My Courses", "My Files", "Create Courses", "Messages", "Calendar", "Todo", and "Settings". The main form contains a "Type:" dropdown menu set to "Video", a "Name:" text input field, and a "Short description:" text input field. At the bottom of the form, there are two buttons: a red "Upload video" button and a green "Submit" button. A decorative grid of white dots is located in the bottom right corner of the slide.

STEP 5:

The quiz module is intended to test its students and give the professor an idea of the quality of the course.

To create a quiz, first select the type quiz, this will automatically show a blank question to fill, then select the choice of the question, text, or multiple choice, finally fill the information depending on the type of question as the website asks.

Every time a new question is filled, the website will automatically add a new blank question on the bottom to fill if needed.

The screenshot displays the STRI (Strategic Training and Instructional Resource) Module Creator interface. At the top, there is a navigation bar with a hamburger menu, a search bar, the STRI logo, and a user profile section showing "Welcome, Joe Smith" with a profile picture. A green circular graphic is positioned in the top right corner. The left sidebar contains a list of navigation options: "My Courses", "My Files", "Create Courses", "Messages", "Calendar", "Todo", and "Settings". The main content area is titled "Module Creator" and features two sections for creating questions. The first section shows "Type: Quiz" selected in a dropdown menu, followed by "Choice: text" selected in another dropdown. Below these, a text input field contains the question "What is the name of Australia?". The second section shows "Choice: Multiple Choice" selected in a dropdown menu, followed by the same question "What is the name of Australia?". Below the question, there are two input fields for choices. The first is labeled "Enter WRONG choices separating them with a coma (,)." and contains the text "choice 1, choice 2, choice 3". The second is labeled "Enter CORRECT choice. (Only one)" and also contains the text "choice 1, choice 2, choice 3". At the bottom of the form, there are two buttons: a red "Add a question" button and a green "Submit" button.

STR

Welcome, Joe Smith

Module Creator

Type: Quiz

Choice: text

What is the name of Australia?

Choice: Multiple Choice

What is the name of Australia?

Enter WRONG choices separating them with a coma (,).

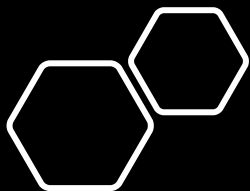

choice 1, choice 2, choice 3

Enter CORRECT choice. (Only one)

choice 1, choice 2, choice 3

Add a question

Submit

Done!

Now you need to make available the course so users will be able to access it, this option will be in the course main page.

Preview of course

STRI

Welcome,
Joe Smith

My Courses

My Files

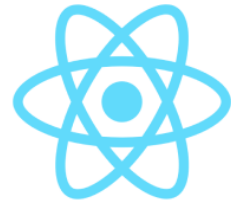

Create Courses

Messages

Calendar

Todo

Settings

Learn React

We will build a small game during this tutorial. You might be tempted to skip it because you're not building games – but give it a chance. The techniques you'll learn in the tutorial are fundamental to building any React app, and mastering it will give you a deep understanding of React.

Module 1: The basics

▼

Module 2: Components

▼

Module 3: Routing

▼

Module 4: Styling

▼